

Profile setters

IPS Ceramics manufacture an extensive range of profile setters for the support of Bone China during the biscuit firing, also base setters and bedding setters for supporting Earthenware and Stoneware during the biscuit firing.

If our customers have a new design, from a sample of the fired or clayshape, or detailed drawing, together with the contraction dry to fired, we can check our comprehensive data base to try and match against an existing setter, or we can design a new die.

All our profiles have to pass strict quality control checks to ensure the customer receives a product that will produce high quality straight plates.

Fast tracking of samples

At IPS Ceramics we have the technology to produce samples of profile setters much quicker than having to make a new die or samples from an existing die.

This has the advantage that the customer can check the line of the profile by firing his product on the sample before approving a new die. Also any modifications can be made again before manufacturing a new die.
